Overview of Boston's Manufacturing Industry

The following list of Boston's 901 manufacturing companies was compiled from the 1997-1998 Massachusetts Manufacturing Directory produced by Tower Publishing, and was last updated in April of 1998.¹

The manufacturing industry covers a broad spectrum of companies which are described by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget's 1987 manual as "establishments engaged in the mechanical or chemical transformation of materials or substances into new products."² These companies are grouped by SIC (Standard Industrial Classification) code, which are derived from the U.S. Office of Management and Budget's manual.

The manufacturing companies have been arranged into three different lists. The first list is an alphabetical listing of Boston's manufacturing companies, including the company's name, address, zip code, telephone number, contact person, SIC code, and a brief description of the company's product. The second list of Boston's manufacturing companies is arranged by SIC code, which classifies companies in major groups according to their manufactured products. Within these major groups, there are also sub groups. For example, in major group 20 (Food and Kindred Products), the companies with the SIC code 2011 process various types of meat, while companies with SIC code 2024 produce ice cream products. A summary of the SIC major groups is shown in Table 1.

The SIC code summary shows that major group 27 (printing, publishing, and allied companies) is the most dominant group of manufacturing companies in the city accounting for 34% or about one third of the city's manufacturing. Major group 20 (food and kindred products) is the second largest manufacturing group accounting for 8.7% of the city's manufacturing. At 8%, major group 39 (miscellaneous manufacturing companies) is the city's third largest manufacturing group. Other manufacturing groups that have a notable number of companies in the city are major group 23, (apparel and other similar products made from fabrics etc.) with 7.3% of the city's manufacturing companies, and major group 34, (fabricated metal products) which accounts for 5.3% of the city's manufacturing companies.

The third list is arranged by neighborhood. Table 2 shows which neighborhoods contain the highest concentration of manufacturing companies. Central Boston accounts for 22% of the city's manufacturing companies. The second most significant neighborhood for manufacturing is South Boston, which contains 16% of the city's manufacturing companies. Back Bay also has a significant number, with 9% of the city's manufacturing companies. In all three of these neighborhoods major group 27 (printing and publishing) is the most dominant of all the manufacturing groups. A detailed listing of all manufacturing companies by neighborhood (zip codes) and SIC codes is found in the appendix.
